

when television stations air one sided productions presented as fact based documentaries their actions are not only ethically questionable, they immediately reduce themselves to the role of perpetrating propaganda rather than serving the public interest with fair and unbiased programming.

Sinclair's decision to force their stations to air "Stolen Honor," is both ethically questionable and an affront to the principles of the FCC and of a free democracy.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. The license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
